

BELOIT SOCIETY IS DISTURBED

Christian Endeavor Paper Promises Surprising Disclosures as to Intoxication.

STARTLING STORY

Claims Are Made That at a Small Dance, Several Became Drunk on Punch.

Word comes up from Beloit that the Line City is very much disturbed over the flaring posters that announce the starting disclosures that are to be made on politics and society in the coming edition of the Citizen-ship, a magazine published under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society by Clarke Schurmann.

Vivid Posters
In true advertising spirit the new magazine has placed in prominent places throughout the city large posters which set forth the startling subjects to be discussed. There are seven in all and it is claimed by the publishers that no class will be missed though the upper ten will have to bear the brunt of the scorching prepared.

Disgraceful Drunkenness.
The topic most interesting to the society people of the Line City is the one which is entitled Mildew on the Upper Crust. An exposition of disgraceful intoxication at a well dancing party. Names and acts will be used without sparing anyone.

Party Existed
It is claimed that at a dancing party given some two weeks ago by the swellest swells of the Line City a huge bowl of punch was at one end of the hall and that this was most liberally partaken of by many present. It is claimed that a large bottle of champagne was poured into it by the son of a well-known citizen and that many became drunk from drinking of it. These facts and names of those drunk it is said will be used.

Sunday Baseball
The Sunday baseball league will be discussed by Dr. Leavitt and its evils shown up and what should be done to stop it.

Saturday Night Problem
Rev. Cheney and Rev. Creswell will discuss the Saturday night problem and will use the names of the young men and women who are on the streets and doing wrong.

Place That Kills
This will include a complete disclosure of the names and occupations of the men who have backed the cocking mains held in Beloit every Saturday night since February 22 and will tell of the cruelty and the abuse practiced by this sport. Many of Beloit's prominent citizens are in fear lest their names will be used.

Other Topics
The last two topics promised are the Spring Election and the Prize Fight. This last was held there on Friday night and it will be explained fully with the names of those who attended and the buckets of blood that were spilled and the great depravity that was exhibited.

Much Excitement
The placards have caused much excitement and many of the young society people and staid old citizens are much aroused over it. The Citizenship will be issued on Friday next.

So They Did.
"Doctor," she said, archly, "some physicians say kissing isn't healthy, you know. What do you think of it?" "Well, really," replied the handsome young doctor, "I don't think you or I should attempt to decide that off-hand. Let's put our heads together and consider."—Philadelphia Press.

Many Synonyms for Money.
The Buffalo Commercial asserts that money has more synonyms than any word in the English language if slang phrases be included. It presents this partial list: Coin, plunk, plasters, soap, rocks, dust, dough, ducats, dings, bats, pewter, needful, stuff, collat, rags, shekels, wad, roll, tin, long green, grease, bones, balsam, chicken feed, rhino, brass, gold, lucre and simoleons.

Genius and Common Sense.
A French lady has written a most interesting account of a visit to Count Tolstol. She found him under the loving domain of his devoted wife, who made him eat and drink for his bodily good without the slightest regard for his theories of diet. "Men of genius," she remarked to the visitor, "need people of common sense to contradict them occasionally."

The Brooklynite.
Ex-Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, at the Lincoln club, Brooklyn, was asked by a quizzing fellow-member if he knew the reason why the inhabitants of their borough were called Brooklynites. "To be sure I do," promptly replied the genial "Tim," with his most expansive smile. "Because—barring election day—night is the only time they are ever there!"—New York Times.

FUGITIVE ALDERMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Charged With Forgiving Notes, John W. Newman of Oakland, Ill., Takes His Own Life.

Ridge Farm, Ill., March 9.—John W. Newman, an alderman of Oakland, Ill., and a fugitive from justice, committed suicide here with poison. He was a stock dealer at Oakland. Three months ago Newman fled from Oakland, when it was discovered he had uttered forged notes. He had been elected alderman in the first ward at the expense of the whisky interest and held the balance of power in the city council. He was a shrewd political worker and a power in Coles county politics for the state machine. He helped to defeat State Senator Pemberton a year ago. The news of Newman's suicide gave the first knowledge to his family and others as to his whereabouts since his flight. The authorities were seeking him on forged charges and it is supposed he decided to die rather than serve a term in the penitentiary. Newman's wife and daughters, accompanied by Acting Mayor Thomas of Oakland, were with the dying man, who was rational for a time and bitterly complained of the poison acting in so slow a manner.

Cabinet Crisis in Spain.
Madrid, March 9.—A serious cabinet crisis is threatened because of Finance Minister Villaverde's determined refusal to consent to a great increase in the estimates as insisted on by his colleagues.

AS A CHILD SAW HER.

Apt Rebuke Given by Little One to Frivolous Woman.

A three-year-old girl, fair of hair and sunny face, was attracting attention on a train the other afternoon, when a little woman somewhat past middle age came tripping in with a mincing gait, in a very short rain-day skirt, a bright red waist showing under a Monte Carlo coat, and a girlish hat topping the whole. The obvious attempt to appear youthful would have been pathetic had it not been for the simpering expression on the woman's face.

"See, mamma! See!" exclaimed the child, pointing to the woman.

"Hush, Gladys," said the young mother, trying to divert the child's attention.

"See! See!" persisted the child, and as the woman who would appear youthful smiled at the child, Gladys raised her voice and clapped her little hands, exclaiming:

"Isn't it cunning?"

Amid the ill-concealed mirth of the passengers the woman who had provoked this apt though innocent sally hurried into the forward cabin.

Novel Road-Making.
A new road for transport by automobile is being constructed in the Congo Free State, and at present it extends 450 kilometres. The method pursued is simple enough. All that is done is to drive a herd of forty elephants three or four times over the track marked out by surveyors. They level down obstructions as efficiently as a steam roller.

Pretty Necklace Effect.
The Bayadere necklaces, which consist of ropes of colored or jet beads finished in front with coquettish little tassels, are quite "the thing" for evening gowns. As a finish for an otherwise plain evening gown they are unequalled.

FILE ANSWER IN RAILWAY CASE

Attorneys for Would-Be Strikers File Answer in the Wabash Injunction Suit.

WANT A HEARING

Deny All Charges Made, by Which Injunction Was Secured from the Court.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—Attorneys representing the Wabash railroad this morning filed an answer to the United States circuit court asking that the temporary injunction against holding a strike be dissolved.

Novel Plea
The circuit court some days ago through Judge Adams granted an injunction to the Wabash railroad against the strikers striking as had been planned on the next day. It is to dissolve this injunction that the present proceedings have been begun.

Merely a Test
The lawyers for the strikers say that this will be made a test case and that the strike, if it comes, will not be brought against any other road than the Wabash.

WOMAN FEARS MOB VIOLENCE

Secures Injunction Against Strikers to Guard Herself and Employees.

Racine, Wis., March 9.—Mrs. Rose Schoen, head of the Schoen Manufacturing Company, declaring that her own life and the lives of her employees are in peril, has secured an injunction restraining strikers from attempting to keep employees away from her factory by threats of personal violence or social ostracism. She has also sued twenty-six union labor leaders, some of them belonging to the Woman's Garment-Workers' union, for $10,000 damages to her business. The injunction bars pickets from the factory and warns mobs not to congregate about it.

PAYS MILLIONS FOR COAL LANDS

Monongahela Concern Buys Holdings of J. W. Ellsworth & Co.

Washington, Pa., March 9.—The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company of Pittsburgh will acquire the immense holdings of James W. Ellsworth & Co. in this county, according to reports received here. The sale, which has been under consideration for a long time, will be one of the largest in the history of western Pennsylvania. The Ellsworth company holdings amount to 10,000 acres and the total price to be paid by the combine for the coal will be $16,000,000.

MINERS FIX SCALE IN ILLINOIS FIELD

Disastrous Strike Is Averted by Both Sides Making Concessions in Minor Matters.

Springfield, Ill., March 9.—The coal miners and operators of Illinois, who seemed to be on the verge of a disastrous strike, reached an agreement and adopted a wage scale and resolutions covering the entire state.

The result is a victory for the Illinois coal operators. A straight increase of 6 cents a ton was offered by the operators when the convention was opened. The scale in the greater part of the state was adopted without serious difficulty, but for several days the two parties have been in a deadlock over the scale in Williamson county and in the thin vein fields of northern Illinois.

In Williamson county the miners were contending for an increase of 10 cents a ton. In the thin vein fields the miners contended for a similar increase. They held that the increase of 6 cents a ton would not net them only about 15 cents increase in each day's wages. In the thicker veins the 6-cent increase will net the men from 50 to 65 cents a day increase.

The principal concessions made by the operators was in the price to be paid for powder. Under the agreement the miners purchase powder from the operators. Last year the price paid was $1.27 a keg. Since that agreement was adopted the price of powder had been increased, and the operators demanded that the price to miners be fixed at $1.85 a keg.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE RATIFIED

Six New Congressmen To Be Elected—All Favor the Proposed Route.

The U. S. cruiser Chattanooga was launched at Elizabeth, N. J., and christened by Miss Nell Champlin, daughter of the mayor of Chattanooga.

A son of the Rev. J. S. Woods of Chicago who applied to the police for aid had a chain about his ankle by which he said that his father had fastened him in the house.

President Eliot of Harvard defended his system of entrance examinations and advocated extension of the elective system to the secondary schools for children as young as ten years of age.

Miss Marion Hutchinson, an extra clerk in E. L. Burdick's office, is the latest suspect in the Buffalo murder mystery. She was cross examined by the police who seemed to believe the handkerchief found in Burdick's room was hers.

Henry Ives Cobb has been deprived of his supreme command of the work on the new Chicago postoffice, and all of his orders are made subject to review by Chief Architect Taylor. Several important changes in the methods of work and the supervision are contemplated.

Still Vigorous in Old Age.
Mrs. Sarah Rumbley, the venerable mother of the late Gen. Walter Q. Gresham, is now over 96 years of age. The old lady is still wonderfully active, however, and this winter has been amusing herself shucking corn on a farm ten miles west of New Albany, Ind. She also busies herself about other chores.

MOULDERS ARE LOCKED OUT

Gaston & Sons Refuse Request for a Raise, by Discharging the Entire Force.

MAY INVOLVE ALL

Other Factories May Have Trouble, and Decide To Do Likewise in the Future

(Special to The Gazette.)
Beloit, March 9.—What promises to be one of the most serious labor difficulties that have yet confronted the manufacturers of this city came to a head this morning when M. B. Gaston & Sons discharged all of their union moulders, including their foreman and closed down their shop.

Non-Union Workmen
They say that when they open they will employ non-union men and it is also rumored that the other shops in the city will follow suit and make their moulders all non-union.

Result of Requests
The men employed at the Gaston foundry were all members of the local union and had last week made a request for a minimum scale of three dollars a day. This same request was made on the other firms at the same time.

Prompt Action
This morning Gastons took prompt action by closing down their foundry and discharging all of their help including their foreman who has been in their employ for thirty years past. They say that when they do open up it will be with non-union help.

DIED IN MADISON

Mrs. Chester Sutherland Passed Away Late Saturday Afternoon

Dr. and Mrs. G. O. Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. George G. Sutherland are in Madison where they went to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Chester Sutherland. Deceased was eighty years of age and had been a resident of Dane county since 1840. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. E. Gill of Madison on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Three sons and one daughter are left to mourn her death, they being Dr. G. O. Sutherland and Geo. G. Sutherland, of this city and Henry Sutherland and Mrs. G. E. Gill of Madison.

Got Rid of an Interviewer.

A young reporter called to interview Senator Quay and found him reading. After formal greetings had been exchanged the senator said: "Do you play poker? Of course you do once in a while. Then you will find this one of the best poker stories you ever saw," handing the newspaper man a book. The reporter out of politeness read a page. "Ah," said the senator, "I see you are interested. Take the book along and read it at your leisure. Good evening," and the dazed young journalist was out on the sidewalk before he could recover his breath.

CHURCHES NEED GREATER FAITH

PEOPLE OUGHT TO WRESTLE FOR GOD'S BLESSINGS.

REV. RICHEY'S SUNDAY SERMON

Preaches on the Need of a Faith That is Abiding and All-Conquering.

Increased congregations in the city churches, especially those of the Episcopal and Catholic faiths, are one of the features of the Lenten season and its observance. At Trinity church on Sunday morning an impressive service, with music by the supplied choir, was enjoyed by a large and devout congregation. Faith was the keynote of the helpful sermon preached by the Rev. J. A. M. Richey, who took as his text the twenty-seventh verse of the fifteenth chapter of the gospel according to St. Matthew: "And she said, Truth, Lord; yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table."

A Woman's Faith
It is a well-known fact that most precious gems are found in out of the way places. This woman lived on the border between the Holy Land and the Gentile world. She had heard that the Jews expected a Messiah and as a sequence she heard of the coming of Jesus of Nazareth and that God was visiting his people. She believed with her whole heart and came to Jesus with her great affliction. He does not answer at first but she still believes and pleads with him until she receives the blessing she desires.

Characteristics of Faith
There are several characteristics of such a strong all-conquering faith. When such a faith is in the heart, the mouth cannot be stopped. This woman's faith would not be silenced but she pleads with him with increasing faith. She had faith in her heart that Christ could help her and though he answered not a word her confidence was unshaken. Here was no weak faith which failed when it was tried.

Patient and Persistent
A faith which prevails in the face of apparent refusal is the strongest kind of faith. The soul grows stronger in faith and realizes that the trial of faith worketh patience. This woman refused to be silenced by the unbecoming conduct of the disciples who frowned on her and tried to send her away. She was not dismayed but continued her pleadings.

How often in these days, disciples, ministers, those in authority in the church offend the people. Sometimes it is because of faults or slight things which were unintentional and sometimes it is over grave faults. Whatever the offence what difference should it make to a soul that has a living faith? They that minister at the altar may be unworthy but their unworthiness does not affect the sacrament or the faith of those who receive it.

Acknowledged Unworthiness
This woman did not let the sense of her own unworthiness deter her. She acknowledged that she was not one of the children of Israel but was a heathen outside the covenant, a dog. Yet Christ was her master and she was on the earth under his table. She was not refrained by the consciousness of her own sins but cried all the more.

So today there are sinners inside and outside of the church who should pray for more faith. Perhaps they believe in the divinity of Christ but question his presence in the sacrament. They believe that he hears prayer but they do not pray as though they believed it. Church people need more faith, they need to know the doctrines and they need a faith that will show in works.

Unquestioning Faith
Though faith pleads with God it does not dispute his will. Faith is not unbelief. Faith accepts every oracle of God. How many Christian people there are who dispute God's word because of some doctrine which is hard to believe. Faith believes all things but does not expect the divine order changed to suit its convenience. If it was necessary in Christ's time for the disciples to lay on their hands in baptism, people today cannot expect the outpouring of the spirit in any other way. They cannot expect the sacrament in any way except the one which Christ ordained and which has been preserved in the church.

Though faith does not dispute with God, it argues with him. The woman acknowledged her position and as she wanted what belonged to her in that position. She wrestled with Christ for the blessing. Faith to be victorious must be in this world for there will be no need for it in the next.

Faith Conquers
Faith will win. This woman prevailed on Christ by her persistence. Faith that God can do all things is the foundation of all faith. It is objective faith and subjective faith comes with the belief that God can impart that power to men. But this faith alone is not sufficient for salvation. Devils believe and tremble and faith without works is dead.

Need More Faith
Men must strive for more faith. As it grows stronger there is a deeper realization of Christ's presence on the altar. The same holy spirit which quickened him enters into the sacrament through which the virtue of his death is made manifest to the people. All the faithful shall prevail at last and none shall fail to receive the blessing.

SPORTS BACKED THE WRONG MAN

Failed to Secure the Right Tip on the Sandow-Clapper Wrestling Match.

Sandow, the wrestler and boxer, is not likely to receive a cordial reception from Jamesville enthusiasts should he return to this city. The ill-feeling toward him is caused by the outcome of his wrestling match with Frank Clapper at Sharon last Wednesday night. According to all accounts the match was fixed for Sandow to win and for his backers to gather in the Sharon sports money.

One Sharon enthusiast who was in the inside sent $75 to a friend in this city to bet on Sandow, as he did not wish it known that he was backing Clapper. He also advised his Jamesville friend it was a "cinch" and to take all the bets he could get against Sandow.

The Jamesville sport took several of his friends into his confidence telling them it was a sure thing and to bet their money right. They all started out looking for easy money and had no trouble placing their surplus cash, as well as the Sharon man's $75.

The next day they were congratulating themselves that they had struck a snap and would have some easy money to spend when their hopes were blasted by a message from the Sharon man telling his friend not to bet the $75 and if he did to put it on Clapper. The Jamesville man immediately sent word back that he had bet the money and his own also. He then started out and informed his friends of the change and they did some hard work trying to "hedge" their bets but they did not succeed in doing much good.

The match came off as advertised and its outcome showed that the Sharon man was all right in his second guess.

Those who witnessed the contest say it was a farce and that Sandow made no effort to throw Clapper. It was a good lesson for the Jamesville sports who ought to know by this time that a wrestling match or a foot race that is on the square is seldom pulled off in these parts.

Honor for St. Louis Citizen.
A movement is on foot in St. Louis to erect a handsome monument in Oak Ridge cemetery to the memory of B. Gratz Brown, a former governor of Missouri and a candidate for vice president on the Greeley ticket in 1872.

...Forty Years Ago...

Jamesville Daily Gazette, Monday, March 9, 1863.—The copperheads who are mourning so pitifully that the recruiting of the army is to be no longer by voluntary enlistments, may find consolation in the fact that even handed justice is about overtaking them. Nobody and no cause have done so much to bring about the necessity of conscription as themselves. They have discouraged enlistments and encouraged desertions in every conceivable manner; they have done their best toward reducing the numbers and the strength of the army, and now, if they themselves are caught by a draft, they are only paying the penalty of their wickedness and treason. Who will grieve for them?

The New York World's Port Royal correspondent states that the Montank, when returning from destroying the Nashville, ran over a torpedo, which exploded, lifting the vessel up two feet, but did no damage to her save by disarranging the machinery. A Key West letter to the

REV. TIPPETT ON SELF DENIAL

COURT STREET CHURCH METHODISTS HEAR GOOD SERMON.

TOPIC WAS WELL DISCUSSED

Self Denial and Sacrifice Are Used in the Same Sense in Many Cases.

"I believe that here is much strength spoiled and fouled in earth's confused struggle. I ask you to put it beneath the heavy cross, and carry that ghastly, yet glorious burden on which is soon to be, called 'the whole world's good, the whole world's gain,' the One who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister—the One who, though he was rich, yet for your sakes became poor."

This is the plea which the Rev. J. H. Tippet made at the Court St. M. E. Church last evening, at the conclusion of a powerful discourse upon Self Denial.

Like all other doctrines which have been dependent upon human interpretation for their application, he said, the doctrine of self denial has been woefully misunderstood. But throughout the centuries of its gradual development from the seclusion of the cloister, and the lowly life of the mendicant, to the great and small philanthropies of the present day, the fundamental truth and force of the doctrine has never been questioned.

Identical With Sacrifice
In his discourse, Rev. Tippet used self denial and sacrifice in the same sense. He did not mean a sacrifice offered for the expiation of sin, nor that which reduces religion to commerce, nor the compulsory lack of those things which have never been in the possession of the one who offers the sacrifice. A sacrifice he defined to be something which is possessed and yet surrendered without compulsion. Self-denial is doing without something we may have if we wish.

Three motives were enumerated which may inspire sacrifice, or self denial. These three were illustrated by characters taken from a late work of fiction of a profound and spiritual character. In the novel referred to the characters are a mystery who wears on his breast a beautifully jeweled amulet, whose sharp edges lacerate his flesh, the pain serving to keep in his mind certain messages to his soul; an artist who denied himself all of the pleasure and profit which might result from his craft, that he might interpret the self denial of his blacksmith-mother who starved herself to feed her children; and a Roman girl, a gypsy girl who submitted to a physical curse in order to give health and happiness to another.

Analysis of Motives
In the first of these types self denial is practiced for the sake of character. Heavenly dividends are the only rewards, earthly investment being out of the question. This is "character for character's sake." Any character would be well proportioned and developed must register many denials of desire, must bear the stamp of sacrifice.

Christ is acknowledged as the model and inspiration of sacrifice in the second type. Its beginning and abiding source of strength are in contemplation of the perfect life of the master. It is amazing, beautiful beyond words or music. In this world there is nothing more wonderful than love, giving anything and everything for love.

Very similar to it is the third character. Evidences of its sway are everywhere—the type that sacrifices that others may gain. It gives its own seed of self to die in the ground for another's harvest. It holds itself in trust for the world's good. Each man is center of a circle packed to its circumference, along every line of radius, with struggling, suffering, shining humanity.

Power For The Race
Not in what one gets does the future become better, but by what one gives. If there is one cry above all others that rends the air and transfixes the heart with horror, it is the sobbing wail of the groping millions, asking for men of mind and heart to lead, teach and inspire them.

Many a dangerous social force has been swerved into a safe channel by a brave heart and a level head stemming and damping the current.

That is what Frances of Assisi did in the thirteenth century, Martin Luther in the sixteenth, Oliver Cromwell in the seventeenth, William Wilberforce in the eighteenth, and Abraham Lincoln in the nineteenth. Many of the fierce fires which have threatened to consume society have been quenched in blood.

...Forty Years Ago...

World states that a steamer with Col. Good arrived just as another steamer was about to depart with the families of persons in rebel employment.

The Nashville Union says that a number of the leading firms of Nashville, who were active in aiding and abetting the rebellion during the reign of terror in that city, and contributed freely of their means in assisting to ruin and bankrupt of the south, are in great distress about the approaching term of United States court. They say that judgments against them for their northern debts would ruin them, as they cannot collect from their southern debtors.

A statement that the government has decided to call out six or eight hundred thousand new troops is going the rounds of the papers. It is, says a Washington correspondent, untrue. The government has not yet come to any conclusion upon that point.

PLEASANT PARTY LAST SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Windigler Entertained at Cards and a Luncheon.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Windigler, 237 Madison street, the members of the Saturday night high king club held an unusually enjoyable social last Saturday evening. The members spent some time at the card tables enjoying themselves thoroughly. Mrs. Warren Hoskins and Mr. Frank Douglas were the fortunate winners of the first prizes, while the consolation prizes were won by Mrs. William Douglas and James Angel. After the close of the card party and awarding of the prizes, the host and hostess served a three-course lunch. The spread was elaborate and reflected much credit on the hostess. After music and song the guests departed for home.

The GIDEONS.

Gideon's Big Minstrels, an organization which is favorably known in this city for its past excellent minstrel performance, will be at the Myers Grand this evening. The company organized for this season's tour is the best that has ever appeared under the Gideon standard. A few of the long list of varied acts we may mention—Skinner Harris, conceded to be the most original of all colored comedians Dan Des Dunes and Mat Turner will be found to be exponents of genuine comic comedy without equals. John Pamplin, the great Australian gun manipulator and juggler, especially imported from Australia by the management of this large organization, and who has an act that will prove the greatest novelty the country has seen in years, Frank Kirk, non-descript musical acrobat, in a new, lively act. Marvelous Le She on the wire in new difficult feats. Harry Waters, the great mimic, better known as "the original Rastus." Among the vocalists, who have repertoire of new songs, sung exclusively by them, are Eli Rice, the popular baritone, in the strongest singing act ever heard in American minstrelsy. Allan Sals, a lyric tenor and others, Walter Hodge, a youthful tenor, and others. The first part is the most elaborate ever seen on the minstrel stage and is brilliantly illuminated with hundreds of colored incandescent lights.

To Be Produced in October.
Stephen Phillips' classic drama, "Ulysses," will not be seen in the United States until October.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A Fair Offer Made by the People's Drug Co. to All Sufferers of Catarrh.

The People's Drug Co. are selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst the customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but their remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that the People's Drug Co. offer to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made, and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

The Hyomei treatment consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest-pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The complete treatment costs but $1.00 and the inhaler will last a lifetime and there is sufficient Hyomei for more than a month's use, the medicine is very inexpensive. Many people who have used it write that for the good Hyomei has done for them they would willingly pay thousands of dollars.

Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured for use with the inhaler at 50c.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, irritating, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case the People's Drug Co. will return your money.

ENGLISH VIEW OF OUR INDUSTRIES

BRITISH CONSUL IN CHICAGO WRITES HOME OF CONDITION.

THE WONDERS OF MACHINERY

Describes What Great Things Are Done by Steam and Electricity.

The wonders accomplished in the mining and handling of iron ore in the United States by the application of modern machinery are outlined in a special report to the British government made by the acting British consul at Chicago, Mr. T. Erskine, a copy of which has been received by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics. The report is entitled "Report on the Iron Ore Industry of the United States," but gives especial attention to the modern methods of mining and handling ore, by which hand labor has been greatly reduced. In mining ore in certain parts of the Lake Superior region he says that the top covering of ground rock is scraped off over the whole property before mining begins. Railroad tracks are then laid direct to the ore bed, and the ore is loosened by blasting. Steam shovels are then brought into use and they load the ore directly upon the cars, one of these machines having loaded 170,000 tons in 26 days, or at the rate of over 6,500 tons per day. These loading machines which daily handle more than 6,000 tons, are each operated by 5 men, and the labor cost for mining and loading averages but about 16 cents per ton, and in the case of one mine which dug and loaded 293,651 tons in 174 days the labor cost was only 4 cents per ton.

In the transfer of ore from mine to vessel on the lakes the absence of hand labor is also noticeable. The ore trains are run on to long docks extending high above the water and having large pockets or apartments into which the ore is discharged from the cars through an opening in the bottom of the car, from which the ore runs by gravity into the pockets beneath the tracks. From these pockets the ore is loaded into the vessel, also by gravity, and passed down long chutes down into the hold of the vessel so that no hand labor is required in the transferring of ore from the cars to the vessel. The ore pockets or apartments, which form a part of the dock, hold about 160 tons each, and number from 90 to 364, according to the length of the dock.

In unloading the ore from the vessels the saving of labor through the use of machinery is even more notable and important in its economies and results. A series of steel bridges, so adjusted as to be easily moved along the docks, is supplied with a hinged arm, which can be lowered to the hatch of the vessel. Along this arm and across the bridge runs a trolley train to which are attached automatic "grabs" similar to a double scoop, which are so constructed that the grab or scoop digs downward into the ore as it closes. The grab or scoop holds about 5 tons of ore and is described as a "digging machine," as when it begins to draw together it digs into the ore and does not depend on its weight to get hold of the ore. There are 15 unloading machines in a battery, and the grabs run down the long arms which are lowered over each of the 14 hatches that are in the deck of most lake vessels carrying ore. These hatches run nearly the whole way across the decks. The grabs can thus remove over half the cargo without any assistance and the remaining half is brought directly under the hatch by use of a scraper also operated by similar machinery and managed by a man in the hold through the use of long cords. This scraper brings the ore from between the hatches so that it can be raised by the grab. These grabs are controlled by the engineer who can drop them at any point over the hold that he may wish and after it seizes its load of ore it is raised at full speed, carried rapidly along the trolley to such given point as is desirable, where the ore is deposited into concrete troughs through which it slides to the furnaces where it is to be transferred into pig iron. This grab, which thus lifts five tons of ore from the vessel carrying it to such a point as is desired within a limited space, has a hoisting speed of 100 feet a minute. The operator travels with the grab and can unload it at any given point desired. The bridges to which these arms with their grabs are attached can be swung in any direction, so that ore, limestone, or coke can be deposited or picked up anywhere in the yard, and are worked by electricity. Twenty-six men will now perform, under this system, the work for which 300 were required under the old system.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon

Eleventh day of Lent: St. Matthew's xix 13v.—Then there were brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them and pray and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said: Suffer little children and forbid them not, to come unto me for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

And he laid his hands on them and departed thence. By this is meant that we must be pure even as a child in the eyes of the Lord if we expect to enter into eternal happiness of the life hereafter. He did not mean that only children would be found in the kingdom of heaven but that the minds of those who desire to reach this goal should be pure. Then, too, are we not taught love of the child, from these words of Christ? Too often in this busy world are the children crowded in the background to make room for their elders. We see that even Christ's disciples did not see their importance but sought to rebuke them for troubling the great Master. Yet how greatly did the Lord Jesus reprove? Can one not almost picture Christ with his little ones about his knees as he laid his hands on their heads and blessed them? Christ the teacher, Christ the son of God, the most learned man of his time stopped in his daily life's work to bless the children and teach them of the blessings of the world to come.

Can we not all grow up as simple as these little ones? Is it possible that in this world of hustle and bustle we can not keep our hearts pure and our thoughts from the carnal things of this world? For such is the kingdom of heaven. To you women, a not your clubs and society doings, to you men of the gay world who devote yourself to the pleasures of life, the card game, the drinking and the theater, did you ever stop to think that you were put here on earth for some purpose, beyond the mere gratification of your desires? Did you ever stop to think that your children, if you have any, are nearer the kingdom of heaven than you are?

Death Valley of California.

In the Death valley of southern California a band of strange wild burros roam. There are said to be possibly fifty individuals, more or less, in this herd, which is said to have maintained about the same size for several years past.

As very young burros are seldom if ever noticed, the natural inference is that the number is kept up by recruits from outcrops of wandering miners, for, quiet and stupid as a burro usually appears, he is quite another creature when free and a member of a large band.

It is thought that this is the only band of truly wild burros in the world, and its range is between Johannesburg and the edge of Death valley proper. They are usually to be found, however, in the immediate vicinity of Cuddeback lake—a small wet weather sink out from "Johburg."

There they can get water for the greater part of the year, and food, in the shape of the few grasses which the desert furnishes, is more plentiful hereabouts than in any circumjacent section. From here they wander well over into Death valley and on up into the Amargosa river country, where one is occasionally captured by the whites, or their near relatives, the half breeds.

The captured burros are seldom of much use; some long forgotten stage in their evolution seems to assert itself, and the nomadic, wandering spirit of the primal first burro will not down even in his twentieth century descendants. The captives absolutely refuse to work, and, if not released, soon pine away and die, evidently of nothing in the world but heartbreak.

Where the animals come from seems to be a mystery, though the band may have been fomed by a few animals who have escaped individually from the various prospectors.

It has evidently required years to build the band up to its present size, while many have been killed by prospectors who rightly blame the band for the loss of their own four-footed servants, as well as by fool travelers, who kill because they have nothing else to do and must be amused.—Exchange.

city league composed of representatives of five of the brewers of that city. The breweries which have agreed to enter into such an organization are the Pabst, Schlitz, Blatz, and Cream City. Sunday games will be played at the different ball parks of the city and suburbs, and the league park when it is not in use.

Busy At Northwestern
Even if Northwestern university does not break many records, or win many contests during the spring track and field meets, the competing athletes will gain a world of experience. Never in the history of the school have squads come out for practice of the size of those which are now at work in the first regiment armory. Yet in spite of this, base ball practice does not go so hummily. Little work has been done by several of the divisions of the squad, and the track and gymnasium work has proved more popular throughout.

One of the plants of the Methodist institution at Evanston is for a game next fall with an Eastern foot ball team. One open date remains in the schedule, and it is hoped to fill it with a contest at Chicago, the opposing team representing one of the big eastern schools. Institutions under consideration have been Pennsylvania, Brown and Cornell.

Spring Foot Ball Practice
Assistant Coach McCarthy has decided to begin the foot ball practice at Wisconsin early this year. He has issued a letter explaining his plans to carry on spring practice for the back field candidates as soon as the weather permits. The attempt is entirely of the nature of an experiment, nothing of the kind having been tried at Madison before.

Work at the gym machines is now going on steadily among the crew candidates at Madison. At least four new men must be appointed to fill the vacancies in last year's eight, and in view of the small amount of material, it looks as though some one of the promising freshmen might be given a seat in the varsity shell. Besides the last year's men there are only eight candidates for the varsity

Coach Bandell of the base ball candidates at the state university says that he is not satisfied with the interest which is being shown in baseball. It is greater than it has been for several years, and there is a large amount of new material, some of which is promising, but he does not consider the enthusiasm proportionate to the size of the student body. About forty-five candidates are now appearing daily for practice.

Coach Kilpatrick's men are getting into condition for the dual indoor meet with Chicago next Saturday. The Wisconsin runners are especially counted upon to make a good showing at that time, although a better exhibition is expected throughout than was made two weeks ago.

If you like Mrs. Austin's famous Pancake House, won't you kindly tell your friends how delicious it is.

...Uganda Protectorate...

"The recent work by Sir Harry Johnson on the Uganda protectorate," said an African traveler a short time ago, "has served to show the British people that this is one of the most interesting as well as one of the most valuable of British possessions."

"The total area is 140,000 square miles and in this vast territory may be found every aspect of negroid civilization. But its scenery is even more varied. How many people, for instance, would dream that there on the very equator is to be found a regular alpine range? Yet that is the fact, and in this range is to be found the great Mount Ruwenzori, rising probably 20,000 feet in the air, its summit always enveloped in clouds and covered with snow and ice."

"The kingdom of Uganda is one of the best organized, and most civilized African negro kingdoms. The Baganda natives described as 'the Japanese of central Africa,' are tall and muscular, standing over six feet in height. They are courteous and honest, their chief vice being drunkenness. They make excellent soldiers."

On the western slope of Mount Elgon are to be found the Masaba, degraded and simianlike negroes, who are wilder even than the Kongo dwarfs. They are hostile and probably represent the most aboriginal race of negroes in Africa.

"Cannibalism is practically unknown among the different races," continued the traveler, according to the New York Tribune, "although some tribes devour the raw flesh of animals immediately after killing. The chiefs are worshipped as spirits, and generally are buried in the huts in which they lived. In some cases, however, the corpses are exposed and are devoured by hyenas."

GROWTH OF IMPORTATIONS,

The growth in importations of manufacturers' materials continues to be the striking feature of the statistics of our foreign commerce. The value of manufacturers' materials imported in January 1903 was $42,328,748, as against $37,512,513 in January 1902. This shows an increase over January of last year amounting to $5,016,235, a gain of 14 per cent. in a single year in the value of manufacturers' materials imported. Comparing the 7 months ending with January 1903 with the corresponding months of the preceding year, a gain of 40 million dollars, or 17 per cent, is shown over the figures for the 7 months ending with January 1902.

This rapid growth in importations of manufacturers' materials has occurred chiefly since 1899. From 1899 to 1899 there was very little growth in the importation of manufacturers' materials, the figures for the 7 months ending with January 1899 being $147,196,647 and those of the 7 months ending with January 1899, $147,306,167. Since 1899, however, the growth has been rapid, and the total value of manufacturers' materials imported in the 7 months ending with January 1903 is 73 per cent greater than the average importation of manufacturers' materials during the period 1889-99, and is actually more than double some of the years during that period. Not only has the importation of manufacturers' materials actually increased, but the share that they form of the grand total imports has also greatly increased. 1889 manufacturers' materials formed less than 35 per cent. of the total imports of the country, and in the 7 months ending with January 1903 they formed over 46 per cent., the share which they form of the total imports being larger for this latest period than at any earlier time, for a corresponding period, in the history of our import trade.

The increase in the importation of manufacturers' materials is shown in nearly every important class of articles which combine to form this group. Importations of hides and skins, for example, have increased from 135 million pounds in the 7 months ending with January 1899 to 185 million pounds in the 7 months ending with January 1903; cotton importations have increased from 21 million to 40 million pounds; cotton waste, from 3 million to 10 1/2 million pounds; silk, from 5 million to 9 million pounds; tin, from 35 million to 45 million pounds; tobacco, from 6 million to 18 million pounds; wool, from 38 million to 88 million pounds; copper, from less than 3 million dollars to over 12 millions' value; manila hemp, from 17 thousand tons to 35 1/2 thousand tons; and jute, from 35 thousand tons to 52 thousand tons.

With The Athletes.

A. A. U. Meet
One world's record was lowered, another tied twice, and a Central association record broken at the indoor meet held in the Milwaukee exposition building Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Central association of the A. A. U. In the 75-yard hurdles F. W. Schule, the crack Wisconsin athlete who competed under the M. A. C. colors, twice equalled the indoor record of ten seconds flat. Kaecke of the First Regiment, Chicago, established a new record of 5 feet, 11 7/8 inches in the high jump. In an exhibition throw George Gray, the world's champion shot putter, who had expected to compete with the First Regiment, but was barred on account of non-residence in Central territory, broke the world's record made by himself of 41 feet 8 inches, setting a new mark of 45 feet 2 inches.

Coach Hollister and Trainer Gill, went wild with joy. Before the meet Hollister said that two points would satisfy him.

On The Diamond
The longest conditioning trip in the history of Chicago baseball began Saturday evening when Pres. Hart's Colts left for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will at once begin practice preparatory to the opening of the California league season on March 26. It will then start on its return trip, playing exhibition matches on the way, and arriving in Chicago in time for a couple of games scheduled with the White Sox.

All of the teams in the Three-Eyes league, as it has been decided to call the Indiana-Illinois-Iowa league officially this season, are practically complete. But few men are still lacking and the training season will soon begin. Rockford is still looking for candidates for the initial and second bags. On the paper Rockford and Bloomington show up well at the top, largely owing to their strength with pitchers. Six twirlers have already been signed with the Forest City team, and at least one more is expected.

In addition to her Western, American and several local league teams, Milwaukee will this season have a

RAILWAYS AND TAXATION

The following extract from railway bulletin number six deals with figures and methods that are of interest to all fair minded people. The property referred to is intangible personal property.

"The local assessors of 53 of the 71 counties of the state have discovered and assessed much more of this class of property than the tax commission will admit to be in existence. Notwithstanding the fact that the local assessors have actually found the property, the commission still refuses to be convinced. Where the local assessors' returns of personal property were higher than its own estimates the commission scaled down the assessors' returns until they were approximately equal to its own estimates. It has calmly taken the position that if the announced, or more accurately the presumption it has stated, so much the worse for the facts. The tax commission has practically given notice that the valuations of personal property in the different counties shall not exceed its own estimates. The acts of the commission suggest the story of Procrustes, the famed highwayman of Attica, who is said to have reduced the captives in size by chopping off the limbs of all those whom he found too long for the bed he had prepared.

"We do not believe the local assessors overvalued the property of their constituents at the last assessment. Such a metamorphosis of the assessors is not conceivable. It would be fully as easy to believe the leopard could change his spots or the Ethiopian his skin. Even the highest returns made by the local assessors fall short of the full value of the property in their districts.

"We can see no ground on which the commission was justified in scaling down the valuations of the local assessors of 53 of the 71 counties of the state by the large sum of $45,105,702. It would be interesting to hear from the tax commission as to the basis on which it reduced the assessment of the personal property of Ashland county from $3,371,039 to $1,696,926, and the assessment of personal property in Chippewa county from $5,093,097 to $2,265,298, and the assessment of the personal property in Grant county from $9,093,637 to $5,465,863 and the assessment of the personal property in Waupaca county from $4,022,360 to $2,358,592.

"We give below a list of the counties of the state, in which the valuations of personal property made by the local assessors, were reduced by the tax commission. In the counties not included in this list it becomes plain, on an examination of the returns of the local assessors, that these officials for the most part, did not make a serious effort to get all the property of the county at its full value or in the assessment rolls.

"Counties in which the valuations of personal property made by the local assessors for 1902 were scaled down by the tax commissioners.

THE SUGAR INDUSTRY

The annual meeting of the Janesville Business Men's association, held last Friday evening, was devoted largely to the discussion of the beet sugar industry, and the outlook for a plant in the Bower City, within the next eighteen months, is flattering.

Rock county will raise this year 1,000 acres of sugar beets, and if the season is favorable, this means $65,000 that would not otherwise come into the county. It means more than that because the enterprise will induce other growers to invest and if 4,000 acres can be secured for another year, it means a Janesville refinery, representing anywhere from half a million to a million in money, and employing 135 men about half the year.

It means still more, for the enterprise established, adds to the producing value of Rock county farms, and this adds to the market value of land. Bay City, Michigan, supports three sugar factories, requiring 12,000 acres of land. Janesville has equal facilities and there is no reason why it cannot do as well. No money is so good as that which is so readily secured. The investment is so good that capital in abundance is readily secured.

Every business man in the city can afford to encourage the enterprise. It will draw trade from all parts of the county, as well as from the surrounding counties. The statement is made by men who are in position to know that the entire cost of raising an acre of beets, including rent of land, is $30.

The average selling price of 100 acres at Menominee last year was $65. This means that small land holdings can be made to pay liberal returns. There are 1,000 acres of land within the city that could be utilized to good advantage. If everybody pushes and the kickers take a rest, the sugar plant is assured.

INTANGIBLE PROPERTY

The discussion which has been going on in the state during the past two years, on the question of taxation, has dealt very largely with "intangible property" which includes all classes of personal property.

The railway companies of the state are vitally interested in the taxation problem, and they are now publishing a series of bulletins and scattering them broadcast over the state, for the information of taxpayers.

They go into the question exhaustively, producing facts and figures to back up every claim advanced. The last bulletin, just issued, deals with intangible property and the tax commission is criticised for the policy adopted in dealing with this class of property.

When the new law was passed requiring all property to be assessed at full valuation, it was soon discovered that while it was not difficult to place a comparatively accurate value on real estate, that it was almost impossible to gain accurate knowledge as to personal belongings.

Previous to the introduction of the new law, all properties had been assessed at what was supposed to be about half valuation and so the assessors throughout the state adopted the rule of doubling the value of all personal property. If a merchant had been paying on a $10,000 valuation for a stock of goods, he was raised to $20,000.

When the assessment rolls were turned in the tax commission discovered that in 53 of the 71 counties that the assessment was higher by a total of $15,000,000 than a schedule prepared in the office of the commission demanded, and so this amount was deducted from the several counties.

The railway companies claim that this was unfair, and they criticised the commission for the course pursued. The statement has been made and is generally believed that the companies are now paying but one-twelfth of the taxes, while they claim, with an equitable valuation of all properties that they are now paying one-eighth.

In view of the ad valorem system, which is likely to be adopted, they plead for fair and equitable treatment and the plea is just. The railway companies do not object to the ad valorem plan if they can be assured that all other properties are properly assessed, but they fear results, as they have a right to in face of the facts produced.

In another column will be found the figures produced and some of the arguments advanced in defense of their position. They are worth a careful reading and are evidence of the fact that there are at least two sides to the taxation question.

Social democracy may be a fairly tale to conjure with, but its principles will never gain ascendancy in this country. It may be pleasing to the laboring man to be told that he is working too many hours, and that he receives only one-sixth of the wages to which he is entitled, but the man who employs him will continue to wonder what has become of the other five-sixths, while he works fourteen hours a day, and lays awake nights to keep his factory running. Socialism may be all right for the next world, but it is too visionary for every-day existence.

The Business Men's association secured the porch shade factory, the cement post plant, and the enlargement of the Marzluft shoe factory, last year. The expense to the club was less than $150. This shows what can be done with a little united effort. The membership fee of the club has been reduced to one dollar, and every business man in the city should become a member.

The outlook for Janesville is better than at any time in its history. Harmony prevails and every man seems disposed to lend a hand for the betterment of the city. With reform measures well established, in administrative affairs prosperity will be stimulated.

The semi-centennial editorial convention, held last week in Milwaukee, was a noted gathering of old-time newspaper men and many pleasant reminiscences were recalled.

The Evening Wisconsin has joined the ranks of critics and the paper's Madison correspondent adds but little to commend along the line of conservative legislation.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee Sentinel: Mr. Bryan opposes a strong navy. Always "agin the government."

St. Louis Journal: Possibly the Kaiser's latest demand for money was framed just after reading Poulney Bigelow's recent estimate of the probabilities.

Denver epiphany: Cole Younger, the paroled bandit, is being given public ovations in Missouri, and yet the man never won a prize fight in his life.

Chicago Record-Herald: The Daughters of the Revolution were permitted to go through the new White House the other day. It is to be hoped that "Love and Life" was properly veiled.

Ohio State Journal: The people who insist that the negro is incapable of improvement should use their eyes. They would not then need to be convinced by the eloquence of Booker Washington.

Oshkosh Times: The New York paper that has trotted Grover Cleveland out as a presidential candidate will have the pleasure of trotting him back again.

Chicago Record-Herald: A plumber died the other day at Lodz, Poland, aged 116 years. He was probably waiting at the time, for his helper to bring something they hadn't expected they would need when they started out.

Chicago Chronicle: When "Cotton-top" Jim Clarke of Arkansas gets into the United States senate Messrs. Tillman, Bailey and other militant statesmen will only need to whoop once in order to secure a full order of "rough house" without a moment's delay.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Women in business need no defense on the score of womanliness and marriage qualifications. Among the aristocracy of Europe it is considered degrading for men to work, but different ideas prevail in America. Useful and honorable occupation for any human being can stand on its own merits.

New York Telegram: Cole Younger, reformed outlaw, now enjoying the glad sunshine after twenty-seven years in the penitentiary, says there is no hero attachment to the bandit business. Mr. Younger is up to date and sees there are other ways of getting money. The Standard Oil concern was organized during his absence from the world.

St. Louis Republic: A reliable quick method to earn $100 and have that much at the end of a year is to put $2 in a savings bank or trust company every week for fifty weeks. It is also a good method to insure peace of mind and conscience. This advice is not given to help the banks, but to turn the eye of people to something wiser than turf investments.

LITTLE THOUGHTS.

Opportunity generally knocks during office hours.

Health brings wealth more often than wealth brings health.

Castles in the air are all right until we try to move into them.

"Everything comes to the man who waits," but not while he waits.

The man who has never been tempted may be unintentionally honest.

He who plans trouble for others is the architect of his own misfortune.

The first thing to do, if you have not done it, is to fall in love with your work.

Were it not for love, many a girl would be unable to make herself miserable.

People who lament that they are not appreciated seldom appreciate others.

When a man gives health for money he makes the poorest investment of his life.

The man who never gets enough will enjoy what he has more than the man who gets too much.

It is singular that the man who can always tell how it should be done never did it, or anything like it.

OBSERVATIONS BY THE OWL.

The sun of prosperity often withers the soul.

Be firm, but not offensive, in your opinions.

Boast not before the contest, nor even afterward.

There can never be surfeiting without suffering also.

Better permit your friends to offer excuses for your faults.

All men are liable to make mistakes; the wise correct them.

Caution is more nearly related to courage than it is to cowardice.

You need not wait for the opportunity to do good. It is always here.

After you reject the good counsel of your friends you still expect their sympathy.

SEVENTY-SIX SHORT-COURSE STUDENTS IN THE CITY.

ARE ON THEIR ANNUAL TRIP

Visit Farms and Stables of the Leading Concerns in Wisconsin.

Seventy-six young men under the leadership of Prof. W. L. Caryle of the state university arrived in the city yesterday morning over the Northwestern road from Beloit. They were the members of the university short course class, on their annual tour of the important stock farms and breeding establishments of the state.

The boys travel in style and have a Pullman tourist sleeper for their accommodation while on the road. They left Madison on Friday and will be on the road until next Saturday. The object of this trip is to give the students a chance to show, what the course has done for them in the way of picking out the fine points of cattle, horses and sheep.

Sunday Here
The young men arrived in the city on Saturday night from Beloit and spent Sunday in looking about the city and attending the numerous places of worship. This morning they gathered in Court street near Christ church and put in a couple of hours in judging the Clydesdales and hackneys shown by Alexander Galbraith and Arthur Stericker. In the Clydesdale class Mr. Galbraith showed four arrivals and the boys had a busy time filling out their competition slips. In the hackney class Mr. Galbraith showed two animals and Mr. Stericker two, all of them being fine individuals.

Will Write Trip Up
The result of their investigations will be summed up on their return to Madison from the papers turned in to Prof. Caryle and a number of medals will be awarded to the winners in the different classes. A medal will also be given to the student having the best average in all of the markings. The boys left here at 10:40 over the St. Paul road for Orfordville where they spent the day at H. C. Taylor's stock farm. So far they have had a pleasant trip and hope to receive considerable benefit from the course.

The Trip
The places they have already visited and those that they will visit during the balance of the week are as follows.

Friday, March 6th. Leave Madison on the C. & N. W. R. R. at 8:00 a. m. and arrived at Pewaukee 10:14 a. m. Here they visited McKerron's farm and judged Southdown and Oxford sheep. Left Pewaukee, C. & N. W. R. R. at 5:38 p. m., arrived at Watertown Jct. at 6:34 p. m. Left Watertown Jct., C. & N. W. R. R. at 6:39 p. m., arrived at Beloit at 8:38 p. m.

Saturday, March 7th. Visited Morgan farm in a. m. Inspected sheep, hogs and Angus cattle. In the afternoon they visited A. J. Lovejoy's by trolley car to view Berkshire hogs. Left Beloit on the C. & N. W. R. R. at 6:35 p. m. and arrived at Janesville at 7 p. m.

Sunday, March 8th. They remained in Janesville.
Monday, March 9th. Visited Galbraith's and Stericker's horse barns. Left Janesville on the C. & N. W. R. R. at 10:40 a. m. and arrived at Orford at 11:05 a. m. Here they visited H. C. Taylor's Brown Bessie Jersey herd. Left Orford at 4:21 p. m. and arrived at Janesville at 4:50 p. m.

Tuesday, March 10: Will drive to McRay Bros' farm. Clydesdale horses and Shorthorn cattle to be inspected.

Wednesday, March 11: Will leave Janesville on the C. & N. W. R. R. at 7 a. m., arriving at Minnesota Jct. at 8:55 a. m. Leave Minnesota Jct. on the C. & N. W. R. R. at 9:49 a. m. and arrive at Fox Lake at 10:39 a. m. will visit Warren Bros' farm to view carriage and roadster horses. Leave Fox Lake on the C. & N. W. R. New Beloit Hospital Becomes Incorporated Articles Incorporating the Sisters of Mary were filed today in the office of the register of deeds for Rock Co. The headquarters of the corporation is Beloit and its object is the establishment and maintenance of a sisters' hospital, open to the sick, injured and disabled of all races and creeds, who may be attended by a reputable physician or surgeon.

Another of its objects is the education of women for the purpose of nursing, treating and caring for the sick, disabled and injured.
There is no capital stock and no dividends or profits will be declared. The officers of the corporation are a mother superior, an assistant mother superior, secretary and treasurer and a board of directors, consisting of three members besides the officers. The incorporators are Sisters Mary Agnes, Sister Mary Joseph and Sister Mary Madalene.

WOMEN TO MEET TO MAKE PLANS

FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF FARMERS' REST HOME.

WILL FORM AN ORGANIZATION

Rev. Robert C. Denison Asks Janesville Women to Meet on Wednesday Afternoon.

Definite steps toward the organization of an association to take charge of the proposed rest room for farmers' families will be taken on Wednesday afternoon. A meeting of the city will be held at the city hall at half past three o'clock and it is expected that the organization will be effected and officers elected then.

The meeting is called by the Rev. Robert C. Denison who is deeply interested in the movement and who will direct it until the organization takes it up. He believes that the project is one which it will be for the city's interests to place in the hands of the women of the city and it is to them that the first appeal for cooperation will be made. Rev. Denison's call is a general one, being as follows:

Invitation to Women
"The women of Janesville are invited to be present at the city hall on Wednesday afternoon at half past three o'clock to consider plans and take steps toward providing for rest rooms for farmers' families and others who come to the city to trade. It is desirable that some action be taken at once as the directors of the Oak Lawn hospital have voted to give the furniture of that institution to such a rest home, provided an organization be effected to manage it."

"Something of this kind is much needed in this city. It would be of value to the merchants, as well as a comfort to our visitors and, as it is properly the business of the public spirited women of the city, it is hoped that they will be interested. Some practical plans for the immediate securing of the rest home will be presented at this meeting."

Success is Promised
The inauguration of the movement for the establishment of the rest home is practically the same as the one which resulted in the city's securing free kindergartens as a part of its public school system. Rev. Denison and the public spirited women of the city made the kindergarten success possible and the outlook for the success of the rest home project is even more promising. It has the endorsement of the majority of the business men and is a plan to which there seems to be no opposition.

Interest is General
Much interest has been taken in the rest home since it was announced as one of the probabilities of the near future. It is probable that the gentlemen of the city will be asked to assist the women by assuming the responsibilities of raising the necessary funds for the support of the project.

PIONEER CITIZEN HAS PASSED AWAY

A. T. Olsen Died Sunday Morning, at the Home of His Daughter, Mrs. W. S. Pond.

Another of this city's well-known citizens passed to his eternal reward on Sunday morning when A. T. Olsen closed his eyes in the sleep that knows no earthly waking. His death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Pond, corner of Highland and St. Mary's avenues. Deceased had been ill for over a year with asthma and the infirmities of old age, his condition being very serious for the past five months.

Mr. Olsen was seventy-three years of age and was a native of Norway, having been born near Carlsdalen, March 23, 1830. He came to America in 1868, coming direct to Janesville where he has resided ever since. He was a wagon maker by trade and was engaged in active work until about a year ago when ill health forced him to retire. His sterling qualities won for him the high esteem of all who knew him.

Besides a widow, there are left to mourn the loss of a kind father four daughters and one son, Mrs. J. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. W. S. Pond and Miss Anna Olsen of this city, Mrs. F. Childs and Harold Olsen of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Pond, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

JOLLY EVENING IS ENJOYED BY CLUB

Olive Street Neighborhood Club Held Their Picnic with Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Robinson.

No picnic has proved more enjoyable for the members of the Olive Street Neighborhood club than the one held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Robinson, Saturday evening.

There was the usual jolly picnic supper shortly after six o'clock, after which the evening was happily spent with cards and other games.

Special pleasure was given by the introduction of a novel feature in the games, a contest in making animals out of chewing gum, furnishing lots of fun. Prizes in this contest were won by Mrs. George Jones and C. W. Reese.

Unique Marriage Contract.

The wedding of Robert Judy and Mrs. Elizabeth Bradley of Maryville the other day was unique in some ways. The groom, a widower of seventy-four winters, has five children, one boy and four girls. The bride, a widow of seventy-two summers, also has five children, four boys and one girl.

Mrs. Bradley was a boarding-house keeper and eight months dragged by before success crowned the wooing of the ardent lover and his blushing sweetheart promised to be his. Each is wealthy and they have made a contract that each shall retain his or her belongings and that each shall provide one-half of the cost of living.

MAD DOG SCARE STILL CONTINUES

MANY DOGS IN FIRST WARD ARE POISONED.

WILL EXAMINE DOG'S BRAIN

Head of the Echlin Animal Is Sent to Madison To Be Thoroughly Tested.

Since the mad dog scare in the First ward last week numerous canines have departed this life through the eating of poisoned food. Five dogs are known to have died by this method and others may have passed into the happy land of the dogs' heaven that have not been recorded. Great fear has been expressed by many residents as to a wholesale infection of the neighborhood dogs by Mr. Echlin's dog who was thought to have been mad.

Examine Brain
The brain of Mr. Echlin's dog will be examined by Prof. Russell of the state university it having been examined and the head sent to Madison for this purpose. This will settle a much disputed question as to whether the dog had rabies or not.

Other Dogs Watched
Owners of other dogs in the neighborhood are closely watching their pets through fear of a wholesale epidemic of the rabies breaking out and the result of Prof. Russell's investigation will be watched with interest. Mr. Echlin does not think the dog had rabies and Mr. C. C. McLean claims that he had.

William Abbott
The late William H. Abbott, who died in Milwaukee, Saturday leaves to mourn his death in addition to his mother and four brothers, an adopted sister, Miss Nellie Brooks.

SENATE MEETS
TO BEGIN WORK

MR. MORGAN MAY CAUSE DELAY

Short Sessions Will Be Held Daily Unless a Filibuster Develops. When Drastic Measures Are Likely to Be the Order of the Day.

Washington, March 9.—The senate today begins the real work for which it was called in extra session. The two treaties, the basis for the session, are still in the foreign relations committee, and unless one of them is reported in the morning the senate will be forced to adjourn for the day without making any progress. It is the desire of the republican leaders to get the Panama canal treaty out of the committee and before the senate.

Delay Due to Money.
The committee has failed to act upon it owing to the absence of Senator Money of Mississippi, who is a member of the committee and who has requested that he be permitted to attend a committee meeting before a favorable report is ordered. When the committee met it took up Senator Morgan's request that all his amendments be considered before a start is made. The course of Mr. Morgan upon the treaty is uncertain. He may enter upon a prolonged discussion and may receive some assistance from several Democratic colleagues, who individually are not opposed to the treaty, but who insist that Mr. Morgan shall not be crowded.

Short Sessions.
The senate for a time will remain in session only four hours a day. Should a determined filibuster develop drastic measures may be resorted to and a continuous session be attempted to force a vote. There is some talk of the opponents of Cuban reciprocity encouraging the debate upon the canal treaty in order to postpone action upon the Cuban treaty.

BUILDS UP NAVY.
House Conference's Insistence on Big Boats Is Good for Service.

Washington, March 9.—An interesting story is back of the fight which for a time, during the closing hours of the last session, promised to provoke a deadlock over the naval appropriation bill and force an extra session of Congress. It will be remembered that the conference on this bill did not agree until the night before adjournment, and the result means that the United States will have an efficient navy. All differences were quickly compromised, except the item providing for the increase of the navy. The House insisted upon the construction of 16,000 battle ships, according to the recommendations of the department experts, while the Senate, under the leadership of Mr. Hale of Maine, insisted upon ships of 12,000 tons. Congress does not propose to take a backward step in the upbuilding of the navy, but promises to keep pace with naval development and respond to the popular demand that the American navy shall contain types of fighting ships equal to any to be found in the navies of Europe. The compromise upon the naval bill, which means so much to our navy, was not secured until members of the board of construction of the Navy Department appeared before the conference committee and gave expert testimony. They clearly demonstrated that it requires as many officers and almost as many men to man the smaller as the larger type, and the conference finally adopted their view.

WORK OF THE HOUSE.
Clerk McDowell Makes Public the Official Compilation.

Washington, March 9.—Alexander McDowell, clerk of the House of Representatives, has made public an official compilation made by Tally Clerk Wakefield of the work done by the House during the Fifty-seventh Congress. It shows that the longest day of the session lasted, with recesses, 144 hours, during which eighty roll calls were taken. The number of bills and resolutions introduced in the House during the two sessions was 15,420, and reports were made on 2,810 bills and resolutions. The Senate sent to the House 1,639 Senate bills and resolutions. The House disposed of 2,418 of the measures originating with it, and 1,012 of the Senate bills and resolutions, making a total of 3,430 bills and resolutions acted on. It left on its calendars 405 House and 113 Senate bills and resolutions. Fifteen of the members of the House died during the Congress, seven resigned and Messrs. Rhea of Kentucky and Butler of Missouri were unseated, the latter twice.

DRINKS IN CAPITOL.

Law Against Liquor So Far Has Failed to End Sale.

Washington, March 9.—Notwithstanding the enactment of a law against the sale of intoxicating liquors in the capitol, drinks are still sold in the house restaurant. It has been discovered that while the law prohibits it does not provide a penalty for violation. The law as adopted is a part of the immigration bill and says "That no intoxicating liquors of any character shall be sold within the limits of the capitol building of the United States." The house restaurant is under the direction of the speaker and the committee on public buildings and grounds, but since the adjournment of congress there is no speaker and there is no committee on buildings and grounds. President Roosevelt signed the act March 3, and it went immediately into effect.

grounds. President Roosevelt signed the act March 3, and it went immediately into effect.

Fairbanks May Decline.
Washington, March 9.—Indians in political life are interested in the attempts being made in certain quarters to secure for Senator Fairbanks permission to use his name as a candidate for the presidency on a ticket headed by President Roosevelt. Friends of the Indiana senator are positive that he will not acquiesce in the movement and that he will at an early day say so in positive language.

To Paint Henderson Portrait.
Washington, March 9.—Freeman Thorp has been commissioned to paint the portrait of ex-Speaker Henderson to be hung in the lobby of the House of Representatives. It is customary to have the portrait of each speaker added to the collection already in the lobby of previous presiding officers of the house.

Belgium and Venezuela Agree.
Washington, March 9.—Minister Bowen and Baron Moncheur have signed the Belgium protocol for the settlement of that country's claim against Venezuela. It follows the lines of the American protocol and provides that the queen of the Netherlands shall name the umpire for the commission.

Merriam Resigns.
Washington, March 9.—William R. Merriam, director of the census, has placed his resignation in the hands of the president. It will take effect May 15. Mr. Merriam resigns to accept the vice presidency of the International Mercantile Agency of New York.

She Was Willing.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington in an address at the opening of St. George's home for deafnesses in New York city told about a Grace church Sunday school teacher who conducted her class in a friendly, informal way. One day when she said "Let us pray," a new little girl piped up cheerfully, "Yes! Let's!" She was willing to try the game, anyhow.

Berkshire Breeders Meet.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the American Berkshire Association was held in the office of the association, Springfield, Ill., January 28, 1903. The meeting was largely attended, members being present from several states. The auditor's and treasurer's reports showed that the receipts for the year were $6,996.80 and the disbursements $6,650.88. As there was a balance on hand at the beginning of the year of $1,399.45, the balance in the treasury was $1,745.37. The stock of the association that has been held in blocks by individuals was purchased by the association, and a resolution was adopted hereafter restricting the holding of more than one share of stock at $100.00 or four shares at $25.00, by any one individual or firm. A committee was appointed to make necessary arrangements to reduce the shares of stock to $25.00. The following officers were elected: President, Geo. S. Price, Oskaloosa, Iowa; vice-president, Geo. F. Weston, Baltimore, N. C.; secretary, Frank S. Springer, Springfield, Ill.; treasurer, D. W. Smith, Springfield, Ill.; auditor, Thomas Rees, Springfield, Ill.; directors, N. H. Gentry, Sedalia, Mo., and Geo. F. Weston, Baltimore, N. C. The hold-over directors are: Geo. S. Price, Oskaloosa, Iowa; A. J. Lovejoy, Roscoe, Ill.; Geo. W. Jessup, Rockville, Ind.; June K. King, Marshall, Mo.; Geo. P. Lillard, Seguin, Texas; D. W. Smith, Springfield, Ill., and Frank S. Springer, Springfield, Ill.

American Chester-White Record Association.

Members of this association held the annual meeting at Columbus, Ohio, and enjoyed a good time. The Swine Breeders' Institute, which was held under the auspices of the association, organized under the name of Ohio Swine Breeders' Institute and elected for president, I. T. Cummins, Xenia, Ohio; vice-president, C. H. Betts, Stryker, Ohio; secretary-treasurer, Carl Freigan, Dayton, Ohio; executive committee, C. A. Kurtz, Indianapolis, Ind.; E. S. Tussing, Canal Winchester, Ohio; J. J. Snyder, Paris, Ohio. Officers of the Record Association elected were: President, F. P. Hardin, Lima, Ohio; vice-president, W. H. Pool, Delaware, Ohio; secretary and treasurer, Carl Freigan, Dayton, Ohio. Board of trustees, E. S. Tussing, Canal Winchester, Ohio; I. T. Cummins, Xenia, Ohio; J. L. Berlinger, Marion, Ohio; A. L. Glover, Delaware, Ohio; N. P. Kershner, Ansonia, Ohio; W. H. Pool, Delaware, Ohio. Executive committee, E. S. Tussing, J. L. Berlinger, I. T. Cummins.

The Michigan Peach Belt.

Peach growing in Michigan is confined to a strip about 10 miles wide, adjoining the lake, and to sandy and sandy loam soils. Our illustration shows a number of peach orchards planted in blocks. Some of the very best peach soil is very light in character. This makes it very easy to keep down weeds, as the weeds can be run over such soil frequently and with but little expense, as is done in the immense peach orchard of R. Merrill of Benton Harbor, Michigan. In this peach belt are also raised apples, pears, cherries, plums, currants, raspberries, blackberries and strawberries.

To Improve Illinois State Fair.

The Building and Grounds Committee of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture reports to that body the following needs in the way of appropriations: For walks on the fair grounds and coverings for same, $10,000; for extension of coliseum building, $25,000; for extension of Machinery Hall, $25,000; for painting and repairs, $5,000; for improving grounds, $5,000; for a dairy building, $22,000; for water mains, pipes and drainage, $3,000; for an administration building, $20,000. This is a total of $115,000. The committee also declared that it would render the women every assistance in their efforts to secure an appropriation for a woman's building.

Daily Gain of Pigs.

At the Cypok County Institute, recently held at Arlington Heights, C. C. Pervier talked on hog raising. He said it had been his aim to make his pigs gain one pound per day from birth up to nine months of age, at which time they are sold. He found it very difficult to do this and at first fell far short of his aim, but had now reached the point aimed at. In one period of 11 months he made his pigs gain 328 1/2 pounds each, this being one and one-half pounds less than the number necessary to make it one pound per day.

Feeding the Pigs.

An Illinois raiser of swine says: We feed our pigs a good many pumpkins. They seem to like the seeds best and eat them first. These seeds act not only as food but also as medicine. They are to some extent a vermifuge. In the feeding of pigs a good pasture is a thing of importance. But many of the pastures used for hogs are not good, having too little feed in them, and in them the hogs have to work too hard to get a living. We have found rape one of the best plants to grow in a hog pasture.

Some men's affairs only get straightened out after they get that way themselves.

GETS ALONG WITHOUT ARMS.

Absence of Useful Members Troubles Texas Man But Little.

Paul Desmuke of Amphion, Atascosa county, Texas, was elected justice of the peace of his home precinct at the recent election. He is known throughout the state as the "armless wonder." He was born without arms, but to all appearances his physical deformity has not disabled him in the slightest degree. He is twenty-two years old and is well read in law, having recently been admitted to the bar. He performs all the duties ordinarily done with the hands with his feet. He is a fine penman. He holds the pen holder either with his toes or between his teeth. Whenever one position becomes tiresome he changes to the other. He has been employed in the office of the district clerk of Atascosa county for several months, and the records which he has kept with his feet are models for neatness and legibility. He feels himself with his feet and handles his knife and fork with as much dexterity as if they were hands.

WAS AFRAID OF HARPER.

Residents of Chicago Street Fled Before College President.
James W. Alexander, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, caused much laughter by telling a story about President Harper of the University of Chicago at a dinner up town the other night, says the New York Times. After explaining that John D. Rockefeller had given Dr. Harper nearly all the money the latter wanted, he said:
"Why, one day a friend of mine was walking down a Chicago street, and he noticed that every house on the block was deserted. The citizens had fled from their homes. My friend made inquiry as to the cause of the flight, and a man said to him:
"President Harper has got to raise half a million dollars before sundown, and he's on the way to this part of the city."

Lost
The Use of Arm Heart Trouble.
Could Not Eat, Sleep or Walk.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Entirely.

"If it hadn't been for Dr. Miles' Remedies I would not be here to write this letter. Two years ago last June I lost the use of my left arm, could not use it and could only move it with the help of my right hand. My heart was so weak I could not sleep nights for something aches. I was out of sorts all over and could eat nothing. I grew so weak that I could not walk without staggering like a drunken man and my home doctor said he could do nothing for me. I could not take morphine nor opium as they made me worse. So I got to thinking about Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and the more I thought about it the more I wanted to try them. I wrote to the Dr. Miles Medical Co. for advice which I followed to the letter. I can say today that I am glad I did as I am a well woman now; can work and can walk two or three miles and not mind it. I can also use my arm again as well as ever. You do not know how thankful I am for those grand medicines Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and Nerve. I think Dr. Miles' Remedies are the best in the world, and if I should get sick again I should take the same course. The remedies also helped my daughter Vida so wonderfully that I should have written you before to thank you, but I wanted to be sure that the cure was permanent, which I now know to be the case."—Mrs. Frank Loomis, Allen, Mich.

MAY NOT APPROVE THE PROTOCOLS

CLOSES THE ORINOCO RIVER

Government Issues Decree Prohibiting Navigation on the Stream and Blockading the Ports of Barcelona and Carupano, Held by Rebels.

Caracas, March 9.—The texts of the protocols with the allied powers have been published in the Official Gazette. The protocols are coolly received by the Venezuelans, who say that congress is not favorable to their approval.

The government has issued a decree prohibiting navigation on the Orinoco, and declaring a blockade of the ports of Barcelona and Carupano, now occupied by the rebels. The revolutionist forces have returned to Guatire.

Hay's Reply Satisfactory.
Buenos Ayres, March 9.—The Nation publishes an interview with Foreign Minister Drago, in which the minister declares that Senor Garcia Merou, the Argentine minister at Washington, has telegraphed to him announcing that the response of Secretary Hay to an Argentine note setting forth the Argentine government's ideas regarding Venezuela and Montenegro is satisfactory.

Result of Blockade.
Washington, March 9.—The communication from the Argentine government referred to in the Buenos Ayres dispatch, it is understood here, was a direct result of the blockade of the ports of Venezuela by the allied European nations. It was learned here that Senor Drago, the minister of foreign affairs of Argentina, sent to the minister here, Garcia Merou, a long instruction giving the views of his government on the general question of the liability of American states for debts growing out of injuries to foreigners or of default in the payment of loans contracted by the state. Argentina desired to know how the government of the United States regarded the question.

Whether this communication was made the subject of a formal representation to this government or merely a verbal statement of the minister could not be learned, but it is stated that Secretary Hay, in his reply to the minister, quoted from President Roosevelt's recent message, and advocated settlement of the disputes by arbitration when the claims were not capable of adjustment by the peaceful methods of diplomacy.

In this connection it is well known from their public statements on the subject that both President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay do not believe that the South American governments should be shielded from the collection of just debts against them by European nations so long as in the enforcement of the payment of those obligations no question of American sovereignty is involved and no attempt to acquire territory is made.

PUGILISTS AGREE TO FIGHT

Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien Sign Articles.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 9.—Bob Fitzsimmons and "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien met in this city and drew up articles of agreement for a fight to take place in June or July at some point on the Pacific coast. The articles call for a side bet of $5,000 from each man, the money to be placed in the hands of Al Smith of New York. The contest will take place before the club offering the best purse and if either man fails to appear in the ring he forfeits his $5,000, the club getting $2,500 and the other principal $2,500.

PROHIBITION WINS IN TEXAS

Second Largest County in State Goes Dry by 500 Majority.

Dallas, Tex., March 9.—Grayson county, the second largest county in Texas, voted in favor of prohibition by 500 majority. Every precinct in the county outside of Denison and Sherman voted for prohibition. The two cities rolled up 1,500 majority against prohibition, but the country put up 2,000 the other way.

Boy Drinks Acid.

Pana, Ill., March 9.—Humiliation over a whipping administered by his father caused David Cloyd of Edenburg, this county, aged 16 years, to commit suicide by drinking carbolic acid. The father is prostrated.

Speculation Trade Drives to Death.

Nora, Ill., March 9.—James Pierce, a farmer, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He was afflicted with temporary insanity induced by losses on the Chicago board of trade.

Prince Will Visit West.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 9.—Charles Walter has received word that Prince Albert of Belgium will sail from Antwerp March 11 for America. The prince will visit Colorado and Texas during his trip.

Steamer Sinks.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 9.—The steamer Delta of the Memphis and Vicksburg Packet Company struck a hidden obstruction near Maryville and sank in shallow water. No lives were lost.

Bound to be Popular.

A corporation has just declared a dividend of one week's pay to each of its employees. That is the sort of thing that most persons would like to see become popular.

DAY-OLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY SUMMARIZED

Important Items of News at Home and Abroad Told in Short, Concise Paragraphs.

DOMESTIC.
Miss Marion Hutchinson, extra clerk in E. L. Burdick's office, the latest suspect in the Buffalo murder case, has been cross-examined by the police, who appear to think the handkerchief found in Burdick's room was hers. She was released on habeas corpus.

President Eliot of Harvard defends his system of entrance examinations and advocates extension of the elective system to secondary schools for children as young as 10 years of age.

President James of Northwestern university said in a lecture that three-fourths of the men in charge of railroads do not know their business.

WEAVER COMPANY FOUND GUILTY

Commission Firm Is Fined $200 Under the Bucket Shop Act.

Princeton, Ill., March 9.—The Weaver Commission company of Chicago was found guilty in the circuit court here of conducting a house where deals are made with no prospect of delivery. Judge Brown placed the fine at $200. The state did not contest the statement that the deals were placed on the regular board of trade, but held there was gambling, because the purchasers did not contemplate delivery. One witness testified he was worth but $300 and had purchased an option on $700 worth of grain. The company will appeal.

Cairo, March 9.—The German crown prince, Frederick William, and his brother, Prince Eltel, has arrived here. They will remain three days.

Joke on Elizabeth Gady Stanton.

Dr. Louis Livingston Seaman, whose rank in the regular army is major surgeon, strongly advocates re-establishment of the canteen, which is vigorously opposed by Miss Elizabeth Gady Stanton. Major Surgeon Seaman lectured not long ago before a club in Syracuse, his subject being the canteen. Miss Stanton grew excited as she listened and finally exclaimed: "Nothing under heaven could induce me to let a son of mine belong to a regiment, having a canteen." Dr. Seaman, who never misses a point, made some touching allusion to Miss Susan's seventy-six years of blessed maidenhood and her numerous and beautiful posterity. The roar of laughter with which this was greeted betokened just how the audience would be likely to vote on the question.—Washington Post.

SAYS OFFICIALS ARE MURDERERS

ONE INSTANCE OF RESISTANCE

Declares That Union Leaders Had Arranged to Surrender the Men and Give Bail for Them, But Deputy Broke his Agreement.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—According to the official report of Chris Evans, who was sent to the West Virginia coal fields by the United Mine-workers to investigate the killing of colored miners at Athensville, the men were shot down in cold blood by Deputy Marshal Cunningham and his men without having a chance to defend themselves, much less attack the marshal.

In the opinion of Mr. Evans, the acts of Cunningham were equal to any of the lynchings in the south, and he reports that the coroner's jury has returned a verdict of felonious killing against Cunningham in the case of William Dodson, one of the miners.

Marshal Breaks Agreement.

The report says that Gen. St. Clair, who is the attorney for the coal companies, created an agitation to have the men arrested and taken to Charleston. Immediately afterward arrangements were made with the United States marshal by the mine-workers' officials to give bond for all who were arrested. Later, on account of the agitation created by Deputy Cunningham, the agreement entered into with the marshal was broken and Cunningham was sent to arrest the men.

Refuse to Be Arrested.

According to the report, there was great feeling against Cunningham, and the men decided not to allow him to arrest them, and he was driven away. Mr. Evans says that he sent a telegram to the men to submit quietly, but that the coal companies, who own all of the telegraph and telephone lines connecting with the town, refused to deliver it, and before he could get any message to the men Cunningham and his deputies, who, he says, were the worst characters he could collect, went to the town a second time and killed the miners in the nighttime in their beds.

Fire Without Warning.

Mr. Evans found in a house occupied by a colored man called "Stonewall" Jackson the dead bodies of William Dodson, William Clark and Richard Clayton, all colored.

The report continues:

"On inquiry, we found that the wife of Jackson, with four children, together with eight colored men, were in the house, and that about day-break all that were inside were awakened by shots being fired into the house from the outside. This shooting took place without anything being said to those on the inside, and the three colored men I have mentioned were found dead on the floor. Two were in their night clothes, and the other one was partly dressed, with one shoe on partly laced and the other foot bare.

Common Prey.

"We visited another house where Joseph Hizer lay in bed mortally wounded, having been shot through the window as he was stooping to put his trousers on after getting out of bed. Hizer lived with his sister, and she made the statement at the inquest that she pleaded with those shooting not to kill her children, and in reply Cunningham said: 'Women and children must take care of themselves.' In no instance could we find where these people had been asked to surrender until after the deputies had commenced shooting at the occupants of the houses named.

Only Case of Resistance.

"We next went to the house of Lucien Lawson, who was considered mortally wounded. I am led to understand that after the shooting referred to this man, with others, returned the fire of the posse, and this is the only instance where any attempt was made to return fire on the part of the miners. During the shooting, in many instances, the men and women pleaded with the men outside to have mercy on them, but their cries were met with derision and curses.

"Our investigation proves conclusively that no effort had been made to shoot or resist except in the one case mentioned, but that all would have been too glad to have surrendered if they had been allowed the opportunity to do so."

NEGRO YOUTH SHOOT WHITE

Wounds Four Lads Who Jeer Him in a Town in Missouri.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 9.—Because they had jeered at him Walter Green, a negro, aged 15 years, fired into a crowd of white boys at South St. Joseph with a shotgun, wounding four of them—John Good, Clyde Christopher, Arthur Smith and Phillip McJee. The gun was loaded with buckshot and the boys were struck in various parts of the body and head. Green has been arrested.

Gen. Booth Sails.

New York, March 9.—General William Booth, founder and head of the Salvation army, sailed for England on the Campania. Owing to the injury to his knee there was no demonstration by the local corps.

English Language Gaining in India.

The English language has found so good a foothold in India that now fully 9,000,000 Indian subjects are fairly well acquainted with it. The language most spoken in India is Hindustani, by 82,000,000 people. Bengali is the tongue of 39,000,000.

LOSS IN WEIGHT.

How You May Tell if the Ventilation in Your Incubator is Right.

The West Virginia agricultural experiment station publishes the following table showing loss in weight of eggs during incubation. After placing the eggs upon the trays ready for the incubator set the trays upon a pair of scales reading to ounces and note the total weight of the eggs and trays. The trays should be thoroughly dry. After a few days weigh again. Subtract this from the first weight. This will give the actual loss in weight of the eggs.

Example.—Suppose that you have 208 eggs on the trays, that the first weight with trays is 24 pounds 2 ounces and that on the sixth day the weight is 23 pounds 6 ounces. Then the loss in weight is 12 ounces. Now look in the table for the loss in weight of 100 eggs for six days. This is 10 ounces. Then ounces multiplied by 2.08 gives 20.8 ounces, which is the calculated loss for 208 eggs for six days. Therefore the eggs have not been losing weight as rapidly as they should, and the eggs should be given more ventilation or the incubator should be removed to a drier location. It is assumed that the eggs are kept uniformly at the proper temperature. After the eggs have been tested for the infertile ones weigh again and proceed as before.

Rules.—If the eggs have lost too much weight, give more moisture or less ventilation, but in reducing ventilation great care should be used, as pure air in the egg chamber is absolutely necessary.

If the eggs have not lost enough weight, open the ventilators or place the incubator in a drier place.

Table showing normal loss in weight of 100 eggs in ounces for the first nineteen days of incubation:

The Change in the Turkey Market.

It is said that the growing demand for young turkeys in early summer as broilers, at about three pounds each, and later from that weight to five or six pounds, has resulted in reducing the supply of really good nearby turkeys at Thanksgiving time so much that marketmen find it exceedingly difficult at that season to supply the trade, which rather insists upon a nearby bird. These very immature turkeys go to Newport and other swell summer resorts, and the growers get as much for them at that age as they would if they kept them until grown, and of course make more by selling early.

It wouldn't make so much difference to the Thanksgiving trade if the weather favored the arrival of shipments from a distance in good condition, but of late years such weather at the Thanksgiving season has been the exception, and most western shipments have arrived in such poor condition that one need not be very fastidious to turn from them with less appetite for turkey than he brought to the market. This year people who got good turkeys paid big prices for them.

It is not impossible that the demand for young (small) turkeys may help to revive the turkey industry in this section (New England), where it is not what it was years ago. And it is not impossible that with such a spur to vigorous work against the disease (blackhead) which had so much to do with the decay of the industry, practical methods of dealing with that disease may be developed and applied by the turkey growers generally.—Farm Poultry.

Broken Bones.

Broken shanks in chicks or fowls are easily treated. Birds with broken wings and thighs and ducks with broken bones should be killed and eaten. For broken shanks straighten the limb and approximate the broken ends of the bone in the natural position and bandage with stout bandage and thin white pine splints. Surgeons' adhesive plaster will serve for both bandage and splints in little chicks. Adhesive plaster reinforced with thin strips of pine makes an excellent dressing for broken shanks in old or young. The break will be well in a week or two, according to the age and condition of the bird.—Dr. P. T. Woods in Farm Poultry.

Cleanliness.

We hear a great deal about cleanliness in a poultry house. But what is cleanliness? asks A. Shiner. The old hen is not satisfied unless she can make the dust fly. The droppings should be frequently removed and fresh ground and lime scattered through the building. Of course cleanliness includes getting rid of parasites. Coal oil and crude oil will kill these destructive insects and at the same time the smell of these oils is a benefit to the health of the fowls.

GOOD NEWS FOR HER.

Ex-Congressman John Allen Tells of a Humorous Experience.

Ex-Congressman John Allen tells this one about a widow in his district who desired a position in the Agricultural department:

"There was no vacancy at that time," said he, "and I was consequently compelled to advise my constituent that I could do nothing for her until later. But she persisted in her efforts to obtain a position, and for two weeks thereafter met me at every turn. One morning I had just finished breakfast when I was told by the servant that she was awaiting me in the reception hall. So I assumed as pleasant a demeanor as possible, and, entering the room, said in a sympathetic voice:

"Well, my good woman, what news?"

"Good news," she said; "good news, Mr. Allen."

"Well," I said, "I'm glad to hear that. And what is the good news?"

"Oh," she said, "Good news, Mr. Allen, good news; a woman in the Agricultural department died yesterday!"

Scotch Joke.

A Scotch clergyman was addressing his congregation in a high pitched monotonous voice, when he was interrupted by the howls of a dog in the back part of the church. He waited long enough for the dog to be taken out, and made up his mind he would see the dog's owner, whom he knew, and take him to task for bringing the animal into the sacred precincts. After the services were over he met the man. "Sandy," said he, "what do you mean by bringing your dog into church? Why, his howling and whining were scandalous." "Domine," retorted Sandy, "it was na the beast's fault, I call you to witness he began it yerselt."

Irrigation on a Large Scale.

Extensive irrigation works have just been begun in Texas. It is proposed to place under irrigation 295,000 acres of land in the dry region of West Texas and work has just been begun on the main canal, which is to be 100 miles long.

Law Aimed Against Anarchists.

The Swiss Federal Council proposes to modify the penal code so as to permit of punishment by imprisonment of all persons who in public extol or attempt to honor any act of criminal intent or consequence. The new law is a direct attack upon the anarchists.

Ambition Realized.

When Andrew Carnegie was compelled to borrow a dollar to place in a contribution box the other night it must have been the happiest moment of his life. At last his great ambition had been realized. He was penniless.

French Nobility Feast.

A French exchange gives an account of a chateau dinner at which no less than seven Duchesses were present. Each wore a magnificent tulle and family jewels and priceless old lace. The skirt of every costume worn by these grandes dames was very long and sweeping. Many of the bodices had long, drooping sleeves of lace or tulle, which, with the high tiaras and couronnes, gave a most picturesque, Moyen age air.

Pleasure-Loving Aristocracy.

The French aristocrats before the revolution were not conspicuous for morality, but they were probably the most highly civilized, witty and intellectual aristocracy the world has ever seen, says the Ladies' Field. Assuredly they would have looked on these card-playing, betting and hunting contemporaries of ours as des rustres. Does one wonder that a reaction took place some years ago, and that the Society of Souls came into being?

A Refuge in Time of Trouble.

A man never knows what a consolation he has until asked to tell a lie to shield some one he never liked very well, anyway.—Aitchison.
